

THE CENTER FOR INDIGENOUS PEOPLE,
HEALTH AND NURSING PRESENTS

WÓLAKOTA IN PRACTICE: HARMONY, HEALING, AND LEADERSHIP

with Whitney Johnson, MSN, PMHNP-BC, PMH-C

Tuesday, November 11 • 12:00 p.m. CST • Virtual

Whitney Johnson is an enrolled member of the Oglala Sioux Tribe, an ANCC board certified Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner, and the Tribal Liaison/Mental Health Policy and Program Consultant on the American Indian Team at the Minnesota Department of Human Services. She has experience working in emergency medicine, mental health, substance use, LGBTQ2S+ health, perinatal mental health and community health. She is a 2018 YWCA Woman of the Year (Advocating for Equality) recipient and was given the honor of Outstanding Service Provider by the FM Coalition to End Homelessness in 2021. Whitney served as a member of the Fargo Native American Commission from 2017-2024, three years of which she served as the chair, and is currently board chair for Indigenous Association.

Register: z.umn.edu/Wolakota

